Why Men Should Vote Against Tilden.

St. CHARLES, LLL., July 27, 1876.
To the Editor of the Inter-Ocean.] In your next weekly addition please give five good reasons why a man should not vote for Tilden. G. F. R. 1. A man should not vote for Til den, because he (Tilden) is a Democrat, For twenty years the title "Democrat," has been synonymous with treason. Buchanan's Cabinet was composed of traitors who conspired to take States out of the Union; and once out by acts of secession, the Democratic party held that there was no warrant of power in the Constitution to bring them back. 2. A man should not vote for Tilden, be cause he (Tilden,) was for many years the intimate associate of the most corrupt politician known to American his--William M Tweed. The fact of tory—William M Tweed. The fact of this close intimacy with a man subse-quently proven guilty of numerous fel-onies, raise a strong presumption of his (Tilden's) complicity in the crimes of Tweed. 3. A man should not vote for Tilden, because he (Tilden) stands con-Tilden, because he (Tilden) stands con-victed before the jury of public opinion as guilty of complicity with Tweed in the gigantic ballot-box frauds perpetra-ted in the city of New York at the Presidential election of 1868. In an open letter to Mr. Tilden in 1869, the late Horace Greeley said:

You were at least a passive accomplice in the glant frauds of last November. * * * And you, not merely by silence but by positive assumption, have covered these frauds with the manile of your respectability. On the principle that the receiver is as bad as the likef, you are us deeply interested in them to-day as though your name was Tweed, O'Brien, or Oakey Hall.

The basis of this charge is the fact that as Chairman of the Democratic State Committee Mr. Tilden sent a circular letter to every district in the interior of the State requesting prominent Democratic politicians to report to his contederate, Tweed, such estimates of contederate, Tweed, such estimates of the country vote as would enable Tweed to stuff the city district ballot-boxes with enough votes to overcome outside Republican majoraties. Tilden never dared to deny the truth of Greeley's charge, and it sticks to his (Tildeu's) forehead to-day as the ineffaceable brand of an infamous crime. 4. A man should not vote for Tilden because he (Tilden) believes in the right of secession. In 1860 he said: They (the revolutionary fathers) recognized no right of constitutional secession, but they left revolution organized when it should be demanded by the public opinion of a State—left it with power to sange the tie of confederation as a nation might break a treaty, and to repel coercion as a faction might repel invasion." 5. A man should not vote for Tilden because he (Tilden) was, during the late A man should not vote for Tiden because he (Tilden) was, during the late war for the suppression of the rebellion and the restoration of the Union, guilty of misprison of treason. First, in this, that he said: "This war is a perfect outrage, and I will lend no assistance whatever to its prosecution;" and, second, in this, that as a member of the Democratic National Convention in 1864, he declared the war a failure, and demanded that the nation should sue demanded that the nation should sue the rebels in arms for peace. 6. A man should not vote for Tilden because he (Tilden) is placed before the country on a false pretense, namely, the pre-tense that he is a reformer. His claim to be considered a reformer is based, first, on the allegation that he broke down the Tweed ring; he was a memdown the Tweed ring; he was a member of it—the most guilty member of it not excepting Tweed himselt—and he merely turned State's evidence against it when it became apparent that its salvation was impossible. The New York Times is good authority in everything relating to the destruction of the Tweed ring. Of the impudent claim that Tilden had any part, however small, in that great reform movement, it says:

that great reform movement, it says:

He (Tilden) asw Hoffman sign the Eric classification act for the benefit of Fisk, Gould, and Lane in 1869, and made no protest; he saw the ring tax levies, with all their items of wholesale plunder, put through, and he continued to work side by side with the men who drafted them, and to greet with fulsome compliment the pliable instrument of the ring who signed them. He made a speech before a legislative committee against the charter of 1879, but he made no notest against the far more dangerous legislation which gave the thleves unlimited power to concert bogusciaims and to issue bonds having thirty years to run. He talked by the hour at Rochester in 1850 about "centralization" and the military despotsms of Europe, but said no word of the coveration, and made the Chairman of the State Committee a mere pupped in their hands. He remained silent under the daily appeals of the Times to windraw his same and influence from the support of organized robbery, and he allowed his absence from the first public demonstration against the ring the publication of the crushing widences of their guilt, and when, nearly six weeks after that publication in the fermale against the ring by the publication of the crushing widences of their guilt, and when, nearly six weeks after that public and when, he great indignation meeting out of hich grew the Committee of Seventy was held in Cooper Institute, Mr. Tilden was still undecided as to the part he was to play, and faily refused to make a public stand against Tweed.

er is based, secondly, on the allegation that he crushed the New York State Canal ring. This claim is almost as ill founded as that in regard to the Tweed ring. Note what the Brooklyn Argus, a Democratic journal, says of it:

He bid lowly for reform support throughout the state by attacking Brandson, in Syracuse, and Lord, in Rechester, where the Democratis have no strength, while bargaining with the ring secondaries in Albasy, New York, and Brocklyn where the Democratin before the country jail, while term the parties have already served. On condition, however, that they will draw their writ of error to the circuit court in affirmation of the district court's judgment of condemnation, in which confiscation of their establishment is ordered, and that they pay the fine required, $40,000.—Gazette.

Pelitically we are almost unanimous for Hayes and Wheeler, regardless to party. Confident that the national ticket will be elected by two-thirds vote of the Electoral College in the Union.

It behooves the republican party of Andrew County at their next county convention to place in nomination none but good and honest men for ADMINISTRATRIX' NOTICE.

In a word he robbed the people of New York of $55,000 for the benefit of a Democratic friend. 7. A man should not vote for Tilden because he (Tilden) is a thiel, according to law. He defrands by legal processes. He robs, monstrous proposition, by bills in equity. He has accumulated a vast estate, estimated at six millions dollars, through the manipulation of July, A. D., 1876, as a Stray, a certain Sorrel Horse, scar on the right knee, small star in the forehead, shed before, about fitteen hands high, seven years old. Appraised at Forty dollars, by John II. He is the the father of railway consolidation, which continued until the huge steals of Tilden and his gang forced up passenger and freight rates, which in turn produced the revolt of the farmers known as the granger movement. The name of Samuel J. Tilden appears on the docket of nearly every United States Circuit Court in the great railway States of the Union as defendant to the charge of trand and sharp practice in forcing railway companies into bankruptey in order that he might absorb their assets. A true copy from my Stray Book, W. H. WILSON, their assets.

The present Presidential canvass is in some respects the most remarkable political contest ever witnessed in this country. The Republican party has presented a ticket which is absolutely unassailable. Therefore the Democratic press makes no attempt to attack the Republican candidates either as to personal character or official record. So far the Democratic skirmishers have been employed in sharp shooting at va-rious and sundry Republican leaders who have made themselves prominent as targets, and have not even attempted to bring down the standard-bearers.

It cannot be denied that some promi-nent Republicans have committed errors; some have been guilty of crimes These latter have been denounced by Republicans, and wherever the evi dence could be procured against such offenders they have been punished by Republicans.

Republicans.

The Democrats presented a ticket the head of which has been charged with rascality in almost all its forms, from the robbery of railroads to the stuffing of ballot-boxes. These charges originated with Democrats, were first published in Democratic papers, and they are as yet not even denied, much less disproved, by the Democratic press. This model Democratic leader goes into the canvass with the cry of Reform, spelling it with a capital R.

Thus we have on the one side the Republican party striving to purify itself

On the other side the Democratic party, protecting and excusing its thieves and bummers, nominates a man for President who has been denounced within the last two months by nearly every influential Democratic paper in the West as a man totally unfit to be be trusted with any responsible office.

For several years previous to his nomination, Mr. Orth has been United States Minister to Venazuela. Previous to his appointment to that position he had served honorably in Congress, and in every sphere of life had borne an irreproachable character. He was a fine orator, gifted, educated, and calculated to adorn any positiot. It was on the strength of this that he was honored with the nomination, by the Republicans, for Governor of Indiana. No sooner, however, had the campaign caus, for Governor of Indiana. No sooner, however, had the campaign opened than it was demonstrated that while abroad he had engaged disreputably, in securing the payment of certain claims held by Venezuela against this government. As soon as this charge continued to the continued of the continued of the continued of the charge charge charge of the charge charge charge of the charge charge of the against him became conclusively es tablished the Republicans of his State indicated unmistakably that they would

While it is to be regretted that the Republicans made so great a mistake at the start as to place such a man at the head of their ticket their stern inthe head of their ticket their stern integrity in refusing to support him when his unworthiness was exposed cannot be too strongly commended. They have shown by their actions, in a manner not to be misunderstood, that they are in favor of honest government and that kind of reform which is exemplified by actions instead of mero professions. The party in the State and the nation will be stronger for this example of its real objects and purposes in the way of genuine reform, and we do not doubt that Orth's place on the ticket will be filled by some one whose majordoubt that Orth's place on the two will be filled by some one whose majority will be all the greater from the stern rebukes thus given to corruption in the discharge of public duties.—St. Joe

John Lawrence.

John Lawrence was tried in the Circuit Court by a jury of twelve citizens of this city and county, who found him guilty of murder in the first degree on the third count of the indictment. After the decision had been rendered, an application was made by the defendant's attorneys for an arrest of judgment, in order to get a new trial of the case on the ground of certain technical informslities on the part of the circuit clerk of Holt county in making up the record. Judge Grubb took the matter under advisement, and yesterday ruled in favor of the prisoner's application. BRATTY'S PARLOR ORGANS Eximblished in 1856.

The best and most lasting parlor organ now in see. No other parlor organ has ever attained the same popularity.

It has been tested by thousands, many of them competent judges, and gives universal satisfaction to all.

The music is adapted to the human voice, ranging from the softest flute-like note to a volume of sound unsurpassed by any instrument.

This instrument has all the latest improvements, and every organ is fully warranted for aix years. Large off polish, black walnut paneled cases, that will not CRACK or WARP, and forms, in addition to a splendid instrument of music, a b-autitul pace of furniture.

This organ needs only to be seen to be appreciated, and is sold at extremely low figures for cash. Second-hand instrument taken in exchange.
